NAS PENSACOLA WINS 2017 CNO ENVIRONMENTAL AWARD

PENSACOLA, Fla. --- Naval Air Station (NAS) Pensacola is a recent recipient of the 2017 Chief of Naval Operations (CNO) Environmental Award for Natural Resources Conservation.

The CNO Environmental Awards program recognizes Navy ships, installations, individuals, and teams for their outstanding accomplishments and contributions to improving the environmental performance of the United States Navy.

A total of 61 nominations from commands around the world were received in nine award categories for the 2017 competition. Environmental subject matter experts reviewed the nominations and selected winners for each of the award categories.

CNO winners advance to the Secretary of the Navy Environmental Awards competition. Winners will receive plaques, which will be mailed to winning commands for local presentation to award recipients. Information on an awards ceremony will be provided by separate correspondence.
