

Leading CPA firm Saltmarsh, Cleaveland & Gund Celebrates Professional Recognition Awarded to Three Top Employees

TAMPA and PENSACOLA, Fla. - Saltmarsh, Cleaveland & Gund, one of the largest CPA-led business advisory firms in the southeastern U.S., announced today three of its young professionals have received awards and recognition for their outstanding leadership and contributions to the profession and community.

Chandra Clines, CPA, received a 2019 Horizon Award from the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants, which recognizes bright young CPAs who are advancing the profession through community and economic service. A manager in the Tax and Accounting Services department with more than five years of experience, Chandra serves on her local Young CPA Committee, mentors at Tampa Bay Wave and is a foster mom.

Michael Egan, CPA, a senior in the Tax and Accounting Services Department at Saltmarsh, and Marketing Manager Jayme Terrell, were named Rising Stars 2019 by inWeekly Magazine in a program that helps the community put faces to the names of up-and-coming local leaders in their fields and community as nominated by their peers, clients and superiors.

Michael provides commercial real estate and property management expertise to the firm's construction clients. He delivers services across the complete construction spectrum, including corporate taxes, bookkeeping and project consulting.

Jayne leads, monitors and implements all marketing initiatives for the firm, including communications, special events and community partnerships. She serves on multiple Saltmarsh committees that focus on team development, client service and firm growth and sustainability.

"The honors received by these three Saltmarsh professionals is a reflection of the dedication to excellence and client service that is an integral component of the culture at Saltmarsh," declared Lee Bell, Saltmarsh President. "I couldn't be more proud of these young professionals' achievements. They are awesome role models for us all."
