TV CHEF SARA MOULTON TO HEADLINE 30TH WSRE WINE & FOOD CLASSIC

Pirates, Pinot & Pearls
30TH ANNUAL
WSRE WINE & FOOD CLASSIC

Pensacola, Fla., May 30, 2018 — The traditional anniversary gift for celebrating 30 years is the pearl, so it is fitting that the theme for WSRE’s 30th Wine & Food Classic is “Pirates, Pinot & Pearls.” Celebrity television chef Sara Moulton will headline the weekend-long event, which will also spotlight local chefs and restaurants during the annual walkabout tasting on Friday, Oct. 19 and a dinner event on Saturday, Oct. 20 at the Hilton Pensacola Beach.

So Gourmet & Kitchenry is presenting sponsor of the WSRE Wine & Food Classic and will host a book signing featuring Moulton and her latest cookbook, “Home Cooking 101: How to Make Everything Taste Better,” on Sunday, Oct. 21.

Moulton’s TV career began as a young protégée of Julia Child on the set of “Julia Child & More Company” on PBS and later on “Good Morning America,” where she in time became food editor. She was a central personality on the Food Network during its first decade, and is now herself a star on PBS, having launched a new season of “Sara’s Weeknight Meals” in September 2017.

The “Pirates, Pinot & Pearls” theme is also a nod to WSRE’s licensee since 1967, as Pensacola State College sports teams and fans are known as the Pirates.

About Chef Sara Moulton

When Sara Moulton kicked off her seventh season as host of public television's "Sara's Weeknight Meals" in September 2017, it was the latest milestone in a storied career that stretches back more than 30 years. A protégée of Julia Child, Moulton was co-founder of the New York Women's Culinary Alliance, executive chef of Gourmet magazine, food editor of ABC's "Good Morning America" and host of several well-loved shows on the Food Network during that channel's first decade. She is the author of several cookbooks including "Sara Moulton Cooks at Home" (2002), "Sara's Secrets for Weeknight Meals" (2005), "Sara Moulton's Everyday Family Dinners" (2010) and "Sara Moulton's Home Cooking 101: How To Make Everything Taste Better" (2016). She appears weekly on Chris Kimball's "Milk Street Radio" and is also the author of the Associated Press column, "Kitchen Wise," and the monthly Washington Post column, "Sunday Suppers." A teacher at heart, Moulton's mission has remained the same for decades — to help the home cook land a tasty dinner on the table every night.
