Blues Angel Music Opens Second Location

SPANISH FORT, AL, NOVEMBER 27, 2018: Blues Angel Music of Pensacola, Florida opened a new location in Spanish Fort, Alabama on November 24th of this year—Black Friday. In the store’s 21 years it has occupied multiple addresses in Pensacola, but this is its first time opening an additional location.

“Over the last couple of years, we noticed we were attracting more and more customers from across the Alabama state line.” said Jim DeStafney, owner of Blues Angel Music. “We did some research. What we found was there was not a full-line music instrument store like ours in the area.”

Since its founding in 1997, Blues Angel Music has been a leader in customer service. What started in a small, one-room shop in a strip mall grew into the Gulf Coast’s largest, most respected source for musical instrument sales, rental and service as well as professional audio installations and rentals, music lessons and school band rentals and service.

“We wanted to bring Blues Angel Music to Spanish Fort, but in a different way.” co-owner, Nan DeStafney said. “The new location is just over half the size of our Pensacola store, but we wanted to do all of the same things, so we went with a more modern, streamlined concept.”

The new store is in a new territory, which opened up new product possibilities for Blues Angel Music, including the chance to carry Martin & Co. guitars—a brand the store has not been able to carry in Pensacola. The new location also offers most of the product lines offered in Pensacola including: Fender, Eastman, Taylor, Breedlove, Yamaha Drums and Pianos, Roland, Blessing, Buffet, Gemeinhardt and many more.
